Parco Nazionale di Dadia

Delta del fiume Evros

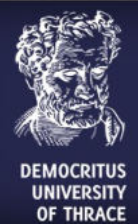

Foresta Vergine di Fraktò

Orestiada dista circa 90 km dal capoluogo Alexandroupolis ed è prossima ai confini con la Turchia e la Bulgaria nella parte pianeggiante della valle del fiume Evros che funge da confine naturale con la Turchia. La città è stata fondata circa un secolo fa da profughi greci provenienti dalla Tracia orientale.

Nuova è anche la sede della Facoltà di Agraria che offre due corsi di laurea quinquennali: Scienze agrarie e Scienze forestali.

La città dista circa 50 km dal Parco nazionale di Dadia, famoso per la ricchissima avifauna presente, circa 70 km dal delta del fiume Evros, sito di Natura 2000 e circa 180 km dal Parco nazionale di Fraktò, una delle tre foreste vergini rimaste in Europa.
