In this seminar, organized by the Charter and Code group at the University of Palermo, you will hear about the general worldwide publishing landscape also in relation to your University. We will further dive into how papers can be structured and how the publication process is organized. Finally we will discuss ethics in relation to journal publications.