

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS:

Students who obtained a B.A. in the following subjects are admitted to the course:

- Political science
- Social science
- Economy and management
- Foreign languages
- History
- International relations
- Sociology
- International cooperation
- Administrative studies
- Law
- Engineering

English language proficiency level B2 (fluency in both writing and speaking) is required. Students holding a B.A. in the abovementioned areas obtained in Italy can prove their knowledge showing that they passed the exam in English language (6credits) in their course.

Applicants are required to demonstrate an adequate level of English language proficiency in order to successfully attend courses and participate in academic activities. The University of Palermo accepts the following internationally recognized certifications:

- IELTS Academic (IELTS): minimum score 5.5;
- TOEFL iBT (ETS): minimum score 72;
- Pearson Test of English (PTE – General and Academic): minimum score ≥ 46 ;
- Trinity ISE II–IV (Trinity College London);
- British Institutes Certification (British Institutes);
- Cambridge English Qualifications (Cambridge University Press & Assessment English).

Applicants may be exempt from submitting an English language certificate in the following cases:

- they hold a qualification obtained in a degree programme taught entirely in English;
- they have obtained an International Baccalaureate diploma with a programme taught entirely in English;
- they are applying for a programme for which an English-language standardised admission test is already required, where explicitly recognised for admission purposes.