Intensive Study Program on Legal Reasoning and Cognitive Science
2nd Edition

27th of June

H 10.00 — Laura Lorello | Coordinator of the Law Degree Course, University of Palermo
Welcome address

H 10.15 — Marco Brigaglia | University of Palermo
Presentation of the ISP

Session 1: Cognitive science in court

Chair Kristina Čufar | University of Ljubljana

H 10.15-11.15 — Miha Hafner | University of Ljubljana
Is justice blind to stereotypes and prejudice? Some findings from empirical research

H 11.30-12.30 — Michele Ubertone | University of Bologna
The division of cognitive labor in law

Session 2: Artificial Intelligence and legal theory

Chair Michele Ubertone | University of Bologna

H 14.30-15.30 — Dyango Bonsignore | University of Alicante
Too human to be fair, too cold to be just. Legal realism, artificial intelligence and the shrinking space between

H 15.45-16.45 — Antonia Waltermann | Maastricht University
The dual challenge from cognitive science and AI

28th of June

Session 3: Cognitive science and legal theory

Chair Miha Hafner | University of Ljubljana

H 09.30-10.30 — Jaap Hage | Maastricht University
The relation between 20th century legal theory (Kelsen, Ross, Hart and Dworkin) and the way in which the cognitive sciences help explaining social reality

H 10.45-11.45 — Corrado Roversi | University of Bologna
The cognitive structure of legal institutions

H 12.00-13.00 — Marek Jakubiec | Jagiellonian University Krakow
Legal philosophy and cognitive science: A troublesome naturalization

H 15.00-16.00 — Kristina Čufar | University of Ljubljana
Constraining definitions: Reason, emotions and social hierarchies

29th of June

Session 4. Free will and criminal responsibility: philosophical and legal cultures

Chair Giuseppe Rocchè | University of Palermo

H 09.30-10.30 — Andrea Brigaglia | University of Napoli "L'Orientale"
Free Will in Islamic Thought

H 10.45-11.45 — Ewa Górska | Jagiellonian University Krakow
Neuroscience, Free Will and Criminal Responsibility in Islamic Law

H 12.00-13.00 — Alessandro Spena | JUniversity of Palermo
Free will and criminal responsibility in Italian criminal law

29th of June

1st Workshop

H 15.00-17.00 — Bartek Kucharzyk | Jagiellonian University Krakow
Introduction to experimental research (for lawyers)

30th of June

Session 5. Law and Artificial Intelligence

Chair Antonia Waltermann | Maastricht University

H 9.30-10.30 — Teresa Numerico | University of Roma Tre
Automated decision making and legal regulation

H 10.45-11.45 — Nathalie Nevejans | University of Artois
On the future regulation of AI. Legal and ethical aspects of the AI Act

H 12.30-13.00 — Guido Smorto | University of Palermo
A risk-based approach to AI regulation

H 15.00-16.00 — Arianna Rossi | University Luxembourg
Online privacy decisions, manipulation and dark patterns

1st of July

Session 6. Rule-based decision making

Chair Marco Brigaglia | University of Palermo

H 9.00-10.00 — Jaap Hage | Maastricht University
The psychology of rule application

H 10.15-11.15 — Rafael Buzón | University of Alicante
An approach to the concept of defeasibility

2nd Workshop

H 11.30-13.30 — Kristina Čufar | University of Ljubljana
Giuseppe Rocchè | University of Palermo
Michele Ubertone | University of Bologna
Can disgust predict legal decision making? Research perspectives on moral psychology and legal responsibility

SCIENTIFIC ORGANIZATION: Marco Brigaglia, Giuseppe Rocchè

ORGANIZATIONAL COMMITEE: Paolo Capriati, Adriana Gaia Fascella

June 27th – July 1st
Room "Luigi Sturzo"
ground floor, Piazza Bologni 8
Dipartimento di Giurisprudenza