The mistaken defiance of Bell's inequality by quantum probabilities: current state of the situation, as I see it.

Frank Lad, University of Canterbury, New Zealand

Martedì 20 maggio 2025, ore 15:30

Aula 7, Via Archirafi 34, 90123 Palermo

I will provide an overview of the complete case challenging the touted defiance of Bell's inequality, commenting on its structure, showing some details, and speaking frankly about my experiences with attempting to expose them among physicists. I will report on what I make of the presentations I have heard recently at the Global Joint Meeting of the American Physical Society this past March in Anaheim, California.
