OPERATIONS MANAGEMENT: INTRODUCTORY ASPECTS IN AGRI-FOOD SECTOR

The aim of the this seminar is to give the Phd-students and researchers an overview of operations management (OM) and elaborate on how management of the production/operations/service operations can contribute to agri-food companies' (or public organizations') sustainable competitive advantage and long-term success. Furthermore, the aim is also to identify and create an understanding of key theoretical principles and practical concepts within the wider area of operations management.
