

Following a Trail of Breadcrumbs: A Study of Migration through Digital Traces

Francesco Rampazzo

Leverhulme Centre for Demographic Science, University of Oxford, Oxford (UK)

📅 30/03/2022 | 🕒 12-14 CET

2 HOURS

Refugees and asylum seekers in Italy: past and present perspectives *

Livia Elisa Ortensi

University of Bologna and Fondazione ISMU, Milan (IT)

📅 12/05/2022 | 🕒 12-14 CET

2 HOURS

Trafficking in Persons *

Fabrizio Sarrica

United Nations Office for Drugs and Crime (UNODC), Vienna (AT)

▶ THE UNITED NATIONS' GLOBAL REPORT ON TRAFFICKING IN PERSONS

📅 06/04/2022 | 🕒 12-14 CET

▶ SAMPLING TECHNIQUES IN STUDYING TRAFFICKING IN PERSONS AND SMUGGLING

📅 07/04/2022 | 🕒 10-12 CET

4 HOURS

Palestine Refugees under the Mandate of UNRWA: A Demographic History

Valeria Cetorelli

United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees (UNRWA), Beirut (LB)

📅 19/05/2022 | 🕒 17-19 CET

2 HOURS

Border crises and human mobility in the Mediterranean global south *

Stefania Panebianco

Jean Monnet Chair and Associate Professor of Political Science, University of Catania (IT)

📅 05/05/2022 | 🕒 12-14 CET

2 HOURS

Details

Seminars will be given in English both online and in presence or exclusively online.

To access the Teams platform, please send an email to daria.mendola@unipa.it, preferably using a gmail account (object: "participation seminars SDMS").

* This seminar will be given also in presence at the University of Palermo (Italy). Seats are limited. Booking your attendance at least one week early is preferred.